Mysuru, Apr. 25 (MTY&BCT)- With just over a fortnight remaining for the May 10 voting in the Karnataka Assembly elections, all the major political parties like BJP, Congress and Janata Dal (S) are going all guns blazing against rival candidates in a campaign blitz. National-level party leaders are addressing back-to-back public rallies to ensure the victory of their party candidates.

While the BJP has planned a campaign blitzkrieg with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Party National President J.P. Nadda, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath leading from the front, the Congress is involving star campaigner Priyanka Gandhi Vadra who addressed a rally in T. Narasipur this morning.

Not to be left behind, the JD(S) is roping in former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda who is addressing a rally at Periyapatna today afternoon. On her part, Priyanka Gandhi has begun her tour this morning in parts of Mysuru and Chamarajanagar.

Priyanka's visit, which comes after the two-day tour of senior leader Rahul Gandhi, is likely to galvanise the spirits of party workers and supporters. This is Priyanka's first visit to the State after the announcement of the elections. She earlier visited Karnataka on the occasion of International Women's Day.

Her first rally this morning was in Helavarahundi in T. Narsipur and she arrived one hour late. A high-level security blanket was thrown around her as Priyanka is provided 'Z Plus' security cover.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

It's not so difficult, really, to imagine a world without us, says Adam Kirsch, who has authored 'The Revolt Against Humanity: Imagining A Future Without Us'. There is one group that views humanity's presence on Earth as being irredeemably destructive. Members of this group could be called Anthropocene anti-humanists, offers Kirsch. This would mean we look forward to a planet without people as the ultimate humane ambition. Then there is the other group, we could call them trans-humanists, who view the loss of a conscious mind, meaning the human mind, as a disaster. But trans-humanists also feel that you don't really need humans to ensure the survival of the conscious mind; we could replace ourselves with a more advanced kind of intelligence via artificial intelligence technology, that would be necessarily disembodied, virtual and perhaps far superior. Nietzsche said that the age of nihilism will be an age of disasters because, if no one believes in anything, then no one has any reason to exist. On the one hand, theists would say that God created us and, therefore, we need to live up to God's expectations of us morally and spiritually, as beings created by Divine Will.

Non-believers, who see the current century as one of science rather than one of religion, may say that this is why we need to create a new kind of truth – what Kirsch refers to as a 'post religious religion.' But can science alone give us the purpose and meaning that religion once offered?

Sacrifice is a concept that is ubiquitous in religious annals. You give up something that is precious to you in order to attain something even better. How can this spirit of sacrifice translate in secular, scientific language? We claim that we love nature, the environment, other species, and the planet. If that be true, do we have it in us, to make the ultimate sacrifice – to give ourselves up for the sake of saving the planet?

Cat saves life of diabetic owner

Liverpool: A cat who saved its diabetic owner's life is among the finalists at the National Cat Awards. Amanda Jameson, 51, from Liverpool, lost consciousness after going to bed one night with dangerously low blood sugar.

Willow the cat bit the leg of Amanda's partner Ray Sherwood, 57, who had fallen asleep in front of the television and paced around to wake him up. Willow then led Sherwood upstairs, where he found Amanda unresponsive and called for an ambulance.

Sherwood said: "I had fallen asleep in front of the TV and then around 4 am, I was woken by Willow biting at my legs and jumping at me. It made me get up to see what all the fuss was about. I followed her up the stairs and she kept looking back at me to make sure I was coming. When I went into the bedroom, Willow leapt onto the bed, and I could see Amanda slumped over." I was absolutely stunned - Willow had saved her life, he said.

Message in a bottle found after 10 years

Warrnambool: A member of a beach cleaning crew in Australia found a message in a bottle that spent 10 years in the water.

Ros Evans was cleaning up with Beach Patrol 3280 in Warrnambool, Victoria, when she found the plastic bottle containing a message written by an 8-year-old girl.

Evans was able to find the now-18-year-old Zapcan on Instagram. "I sent that bottle off a pier in Portland, Victoria, exactly 10 years ago," Zepcan said in a message to Evans. "I'm sorry we couldn't send a million pounds along with the message, but I'm so glad you guys reached out, it has really brought back a lot of memories for me and my family."

The bottle had traveled about 50 miles in 10 years.

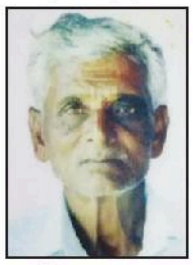
56-year-old Basavanna's organs donated to save four lives

Mysuru, Apr. 25- The 56-year-old Basavanna was brought to Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, on Apr. 17 from K.R. Pet in an extremely critical condition. The initial CT scan showed a brain stem infarct and he was shifted to ICU immediately for life support and intensive care.



Basavanna

On Apr. 21, his condition worsened and at 6.39 am he was declared brain dead due to brain stem failure as per the hospital protocol stipulated by the Transplant of Human Organs Act 1994 by panellist doctors at Apollo BGS Hospitals.

Basavanna was healthy before this incident and further tests confirmed his eligibility for organ donation. His family was counselled who later came forward to donate his organs.

As per organ donation protocol, officials from SOTTO (State Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation, formerly Jeeva Sarthakathe) initiated the process by the organ recipients' waiting list. On Apr. 21, at around 3.50 pm, Basavanna's organs (Liver, 2 Kidneys and Heart Valves) were harvested with a cross-clamp done at 3.23 pm at Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru. The organs donated are as follows:

Apollo BGS Hospitals is the Licensed Centre for Multiorgan Transplants in Mysuru which is now recognised as the 5th Zone for Organ Transplants under SOTTO, Karnataka.

To facilitate the crossmatch facility for Organ Transplants in this region, SOTTO has signed an MoU with Apollo BGS Hospitals under which all cross-matching of transplant patients will be undertaken at Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, saving the travel time to Bengaluru, which is crucial during the Organ Transplantation.

N.G. Bharateesha Reddy, Vice-President and Unit Head, Apollo BGS Hospitals, has in a press release thanked the deceased person's family for coming forward for this noble cause of organ donation.

Accidents on Expressway: Safety measures need of the hour

Sir,

I travelled via the Expressway to Bengaluru on Apr. 22 and passed by an accident site. I saw the mangled vehicles and felt deep sorrow learning about the loss of five precious young lives. Although we have a 6-lane Expressway between Mysuru and Bengaluru to boast about, the frequency of accidents leading to the loss of life makes me question whether we really deserve it. The reasons for the accidents are plain enough:

1. The Expressway should never have been opened for public use before completing the service roads and educating the public on usage of a 6-lane road.

2. The public and public transport drivers who use the Expressway consider it a mere high-speed road without caring for the rules that are prescribed for its usage. This apathy of the authorities concerned is to blame. The rules should have been displayed and the users should have been educated, and strict enforcement should have been carried out. The rules for using 6-lane roads can be downloaded from Google search.

3. Slow-moving scooters carrying helmetless riders/pillion passengers, more than allowable capacity and children, is a common sight on the Expressway and is a potential accident cause.

4. Heavy-duty slow-moving vehicles occupying two lanes and/or parking them close to the kerb hampers the movement of vehicles coming from the rear, making them brake hard and causing accidents.

5. Pedestrians and cattle crossing the Expressway near villages create confusion in the minds of motorists.

6. Some 2-wheelers use one of the 3 lanes of the Expressway by approaching from the opposite direction to reach the exits, which is highly dangerous.

7. Overtaking between lanes without proper signalling and/or at very close distances is very common.

8. There are no proper Highway patrolling or CCTV cameras installed to control lane movement and apprehend the transgressors and penalise them with deterrent penalties. The best control points are the toll plazas/exits where the transgressors can be nabbed and penalised if proper CCTV cameras are installed en route. Through your media, I implore the authorities concerned to take precautions and avoid any further unnecessary loss or impairment of precious human lives.

'Operation Kaveri' to bring back Indians from Sudan

New Delhi/ Mysuru, Apr. 25 (Agencies)- India has launched 'Operation Kaveri' to bring back its citizens stranded in war-torn Sudan.

External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar said yesterday that the Government is committed to assisting all brethren in Sudan. The Minister also informed that around 500 Indians have reached Port Sudan, while more are on their way.

Sudan has been witnessing deadly fighting between the country's army and paramilitary group Rapid Support Forces for the last 10 days which has reportedly left around 600 persons dead.

"Operation Kaveri gets underway to bring back our citizens stranded in Sudan. Our ships and aircraft are set to bring them back home," Jaishankar tweeted sharing the photos of evacuated citizens.

According to the Indian Embassy in Khartoum, there are around 2,800 Indian nationals in Sudan. Along with this, there is also a settled Indian community of around 1,200 people — which has been in the country for nearly 150 years.

India has put two military transport aircraft and a patrol vessel on standby in Jeddah and Port Sudan, respectively. Their assessment is that the situation continues to be unstable due to heavy fighting, including in several locations in Khartoum. "As part of our preparations and in order to move swiftly, the Government is pursuing multiple options," the External Affairs Ministry said.

Five Indian nationals have been evacuated so far through a French Air Force flight and were brought to France's military base in Djibouti along with people of over 28 other nationalities, reported news agencies citing French Diplomatic sources. Along with this, three flights have brought approximately 500 evacuees to France's military base.

Meanwhile, relatives of over 116 Hakki-Pikki tribes from Tiger Block in H.D. Kote and Pakshirajapura in Hunsur stuck in Sudan are happy about the rescue operation.

They said that they got information that the Indian Embassy in Sudan will send a bus to rescue their relatives and family members from Al Fashir to Port Sudan, from where they will be evacuated to India.

P.S. Nanjunda Swamy, State President of Karnataka Adivasi Budakattu Hakki Pikki Jananga, said they are continuously in touch with Mysuru Deputy Commissioner (DC) and are happy to know about the rescue operation.

'Double engine' taking State on progress track: UP Dy. CM

Pathak shared his interaction with tea vendors and cab drivers on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway, who expressed their optimism that many such expressways will be built. He expressed his gratitude to Modi for boosting the confidence of the people. Pathak is currently in Mysuru to campaign for the BJP.

He drew an analogy between Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka, stating that both States have been leading in the electrification of houses, providing power supply even to tiny villages. He emphasised that without electricity, it is not possible to create jobs or build livelihood.

Although Mysuru already has an airport, it is expected to make a big leap in the future with the expansion works soon to begin. The expansion will enable the airport to facilitate the operation of bigger flights and connect more cities. In addition, several initiatives are being taken up under the Jal Jeevan Mission and Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT) schemes, according to Brajesh Pathak.

In addition to the Outer Ring Road (ORR), plans are underway to build a Peripheral Ring Road in the outskirts of Mysuru City with the sole intention of reducing traffic jams. According to Brajesh Pathak, the works are expected to begin soon.

Simha urged voters to support S. Satish (Sandesh Swamy) in Narasimharaja Assembly Constituency and Kaveesh Gowda in Chamundeshwari.

Members of Madiga community joined BJP today. Mayor Shivakumar, MLA L. Nagendra, BJP Mysuru District Spokesman Dr. K. Vasanth Kumar and BJP City Working President M.B. Giridhar were also present.

Campaign blitz in Old Mysuru

As Priyanka climbed the stage, she was cordially welcomed by leaders including candidates — Narasimharaja MLA Tanveer Sait, Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Darshan Dhruvanarayan (Nanjangud), K. Harish Gowda (Chamaraja) and Mavinahalli Siddegowda (Chamundeshwari).

Others on the stage included Varuna MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah, MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah, former MP Kagalwadi Shivanna and Karnataka's Congress in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala.

Priyanka exchanged pleasantries with all on the stage and spoke with Darshan (son of late KPCC Working President R. Dhruvanarayan) for over two minutes. Surjewala introduced Dr. Yathindra to Priyanka.

In her speech, Priyanka made the announcement of Gruha Lakshmi Yojana where under the scheme, Congress has promised to provide Rs. 2,000 allowance for every woman head of the family. She also announced 200 units of free power to consumers.

Priyanka began her speech in Kannada and said "Ellarigu Namaskara." Later she switched to Hindi and Dr. Yathindra translated the same.

Sources said that Priyanka Gandhi would carry out campaigning and make an appeal to voters directly in about 30 seats.

After the Helavarahundi rally, Priyanka is scheduled to take part in a women's convention at Gourishankar Convention Hall at Hanur in Chamarajanagar district and will reach K.R. Nagar at 5 pm and take part in a road show from 5.30 pm onwards before leaving for Mysuru where she will stay at Radisson Blu Plaza Hotel.

JD(S) will come to power: H.D. Kumaraswamy

Mysuru, Apr.25 (RK&DM)- Exuding confidence that Janata Dal (Secular) will form the Government with an absolute majority in May 10 Assembly polls, JD(S) Legislature Party leader and former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has called upon party workers to ensure maximum number of seats for the party in Old Mysuru region, which has long been the party's stronghold.

He was addressing Chamaraja Constituency party workers meeting — 'Nimmondige Kumaranna' — at Saptapadi Kalyana Mantapa, in Vijayanagar today.

Pointing out that he has come to Mysuru to address party workers and enthuse them, just a day after he was discharged from a hospital (in Bengaluru), Kumaraswamy said "I have come here to be with you and inspire each and every JD(S) worker. Organisation and co-ordination is vital for winning the elections. Though JD(S) is faring well in Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) polls, the party's performance in Assembly polls in the three Constituencies of the city is not up to the mark. I therefore task the party Corporators to secure maximum number of votes for Chamaraja candidate H.K. Ramesh, who has a good political background," he said.

Maintaining that the JD(S) stands a good chance of winning more than 35 seats in North Karnataka region, he said that, "the Corporators of Mysuru should work overtime for ensuring the victory of Ramesh."

Taking a dig at Congress and BJP for making tall claims of development, Kumaraswamy asked the party workers to reach out the party's programmes, plans and projects to every doorstep and also educate voters on corrupt practices of Congress and BJP.

MLAs G.T. Devegowda and S.R. Mahesh, MLC C.N. Manjegowda, Chamaraja candidate H.K. Ramesh, Corporators SBM Manju, K.V. Sridhar and Prema Shankaregowda, former Mayors M.J. Ravikumar and R. Lingappa, former Corporators C. Mahadesh and M. Shivanna, JD(S) leader Gangadhar Gowda and others were present.

800 paramilitary forces to oversee high-octane battle

4,000 District, City Police personnel to form additional layer; More security for sensitive booths

Mysuru, Apr. 25 (RK&BCT)- Ahead of the high-octane Karnataka Assembly Polls, the Mysuru District Administration is being assisted by 29 units of paramilitary forces to conduct the election in a free and fair manner. These forces are in addition to those drawn from the State and City Police.

Already seven units of gun-toting paramilitary forces comprising 80 personnel in each unit have arrived in Mysuru and have been deployed for a round-the-clock vigil. The personnel have been deployed at key points including border areas to curb the movement of illegal liquor, cash and drugs.

Apart from border areas, check posts have been set up within the city, especially on the roads which link to 11 Assembly Constituencies. According to City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, three more units are expected as the date of polling is nearing. "In all, there will be over 800 paramilitary forces to maintain order and prevent illegalities," he added.

The paramilitary forces will be supported by over 4,000 Police personnel including Civil, Traffic CAR, KSRP, Commando Force and Mounted Police. The Police have also arranged the deployment of youths at all the check posts to speak Kannada with the commuters and interact with them as the paramilitary forces are strangers to local language.

From the security for strong-rooms and deployment of personnel to setting up special teams for sensitive and hyper-sensitive polling stations and introducing strike forces, the Police are well-prepared for the elections, Ramesh said.

The City Top Cop said that security at all polling stations will be tight with a special focus on sensitive and hyper-sensitive booths. Deputy Superintendents of Police, Deputy Commissioners of Police, Assistant Superintendents and Assistant Commissioners will supervise the security apparatus along with the commanders of the paramilitary forces.

The Police and paramilitary forces will work under senior officials. For the sensitive polling booths, he said that additional teams, comprising an Inspector, a Sub-Inspector and six to eight Constables, including women staff will be deployed. The teams also have a list of persons with criminal records to keep an eye on them, the Commissioner added.

'Dalits, Backward Classes should reject BJP'

Former Minister B. Somashekar addressing press meet in city yesterday as Mysuru District Congress President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar looks on.

Mysuru, Apr. 25 (MTY&BS)- Former Minister B. Somashekar has given a call to the people to teach a lesson to BJP by defeating the party in this election, as the party has been tactful in using dalits and backward classes before pushing them to a corner.

Addressing a media conference at Congress party office in city yesterday, Somashekar, who recently switched over from BJP to Congress, said 'The caste system has been the ideology of BJP which I have keenly observed during eight years of my association with that party. Barring election time, when the party utilises dalits and backward classes, the particular classes will be gradually cornered without giving them their due later. Many have become victims to such tactics of BJP. By giving more tickets to candidates of touchable communities, the saffron party has been hatching a plot to keep untouchables away from politics.'

Continuing his tirade against BJP, Somashekar said 'The party has been weakening the Constitution and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar has been restricted to statues. The facilities enjoyed by dalits have been curtailed, besides instigating castes and fomenting enmity between them, only to keep their political interest alive. The religious minorities are being targeted and harassed. Hence, dalits and backward classes should reject the party that is out to topple the ethos of values of Constitution.'

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who promised to double farmers income, has been handing their agricultural fields to corporate companies. To further his (Modi) interest in facilitating agriculture sector to private companies, several bids were made by introducing three amended Farm Laws. The promise to implement the recommendations of M.S. Swaminathan Commission still remains on paper, so also the assurance on Minimum Support Price (MSP) for farm produces, alleged Somashekar lashing it out at the Centre.

Demonetisation

The Prime Minister, who claimed to have brought in demonetisation of notes to check black money, however put several crores of people into trouble. Now, there is not even a word about black money, but the common man had to reel under the crises due to Centre's stand on withdrawal of high value currency notes (of Rs. 500 and Rs.1,000). Crores of people lost their jobs and traders incurred losses, but the Prime Minister didn't respond to their woes. There was no benefit from demonetisation, alleged Somashekar.

JD(S) for power

Barring one Constituency, Janata Dal (Secular) has its MLAs in the remaining (six) Constituencies in Mandya district. However, the party is ready to have a secret pact with any party for the sake of power. Moreover, the party is bereft of any ideology, alleged Somashekar.

MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah, Mysuru District Congress President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, leaders Puttasidde Gowda, Yedathale Manjunath, Raghuraj, Donald, Chandru, Nagesh and Jayakumar were present.

What is Sreenivasa Prasad's contribution to dalits?

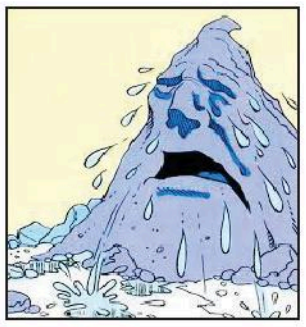
Former Minister Somashekar also sought to know what were the contributions of Chamarajanagar BJP MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad for the uplift of dalits.

Making a mockery of Prasad who had served as a Revenue Minister for three years, Somashekar said 'People are aware about his contributions. I had also served as Revenue Minister for one-and-a-half years and even got the award. I am also ready to show documents in support of my development works.'

While he became a MP again after defecting to BJP, his son-in-law (B. Harshavardhan) became MLA of Nanjangud. Despite this, what's his (Prasad) contributions to BJP, he asked.

WORD OF THE DAY

Dolorous



Pronunciation: DOH-luh-rus.
Meaning: Dolorous means "causing, marked by, or expressing misery or grief."
Origin: If you've ever studied a Romance language, you've likely run into words related to Latin dolor, meaning "pain" or "grief." Indeed, Spanish, French, Italian, Portuguese, and Romanian all refer to pain using descendants of dolor. English (which despite its many Latinate terms is categorised as a Germanic language) has dolor to thank for dolorous. When the word first appeared, it was linked to physical pain; as the British surgeon John Banister wrote in 1578, "No medicine may prevail ... till the same dolorous tooth be ... plucked up by the roots." The "causing pain" sense of dolorous coexisted with the "sorrowful" sense for centuries, but (to the dolor, perhaps, of some) its use is now rare.
Example: "Having haunted arenas longer than some ghosts haunt cathedrals, the Cure have their live sound down to a towering tee. ... Feather-light guitar filigrees land like hammers, dolorous synth string drones rumble from the deep. [Robert] Smith's agelessly yearning and yelping vocals, his lyrics steeped in suburban ennui and true love against the big, bad world, are the voice of the eternal moody teen."

THE ODD WORD

Dapatical

Lavish; sumptuous; costly.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Don't look a gift horse in the mouth

Meaning: You use the phrase 'Don't look a gift horse in the mouth' to say that it's important to be grateful when a gift is received.
Origin: The expression 'Don't look a gift horse in the mouth' is an ancient one and its origin is unknown. It first appears in print in John Heywood's A Dialogue Conteinyng The Nomber In Effect Of All The Prouerbes In The Englishe Tongue, where it translates to "Don't look a given horse in the mouth."
Example: "Be grateful you got a birthday present at all. Remember, don't look a gift horse in the mouth."
